Usage of cookies by Wunderchef

Wunderchef uses cookies for technical reasons, in order to determine how the services provided by Wunderchef are used and to provide users with the most relevant information for them. Cookies are also used to measure the traffic on our platform, in order to gather statistics about the pattern in which our web services are used and to improve the quality of our web services.

By using the services provided by Wunderchef you agree that we will use cookies, unless you have deactivated the usage of cookies by changing your browser settings.

What are cookies?

A cookie is a small text file, which is stored on your computer or any other device you use to access the services of Wunderchef, which contains information that enables our platform to recognize your device.

Wunderchef uses two types of cookies: permanent and temporary (also known as session cookies). Permanent cookies are stored on your device for a longer period of time. Permanent cookies are saved on your devices until:

- a) they expire;
- b) they are substituted with other cookies;
- c) you manually delete them.

Session cookies are temporarily stored on your device while you are active on the Wunderchef platform and disappear once you are no longer active on our platform.

How do I remove cookies?

You can choose to block cookies by changing the setting on your browser. You can also delete all cookies that have already been stored on your device. Please note that removing cookies can in some instances decrease the functionality and the user experience related to the Wunderchef platform.
